

Court Settlement Process

Introduction

The specialist judges of the Technology and Construction Court have particular expertise in the evaluation of the disputes which are dealt with in that Court. It has been suggested that the judges might assist the parties to proceedings to achieve settlements as part of their role of case management under the Civil Procedure Rules, without delaying the normal court process.

It is appreciated that the parties have a range of methods of dispute resolution, including Early Neutral Evaluation (see Section 7.5 of the TCC Guide) or mediation before a mediator with experience in technology and construction disputes. However, it is thought that the expertise of judges of the Technology and Construction Court applied in the settlement process will be of assistance in certain cases. TCC judges who have received additional training in dispute resolution techniques will be available to participate in the process.

Following helpful general consultation, which included Tecbar, TeCSA and Court users, the following process has been produced for those situations where, following a request from the parties, a case managing judge feels that the parties should be able to achieve an amicable settlement and that a TCC judge is particularly able to assist in achieving that settlement.

In those circumstances, the case managing judge would then be at liberty, as part of the Court procedure, to offer a Court Settlement Process to the parties and, if accepted by all relevant parties to the case, that judge or another TCC judge (depending on the parties' agreement) would make a Court Settlement Order embodying the parties' agreement and fixing a date for a Court Settlement Conference with an estimated duration proportionate to the issues in the case.

The judge would then conduct the Court Settlement Process in accordance with that Court Settlement Order. If a settlement were not reached then the case would proceed. If the case management judge carried out the Court Settlement Process then the case would be taken over by another case management judge. In any event, the Settlement Judge would take no further part in the litigation.

Implementation

A pilot scheme will start on 1 June 2006 until 31 July 2007, participated in by certain London TCC judges. Subject to the satisfactory outcome of the pilot scheme, the procedure will then be formally incorporated into the TCC Guide.

A Preliminary Court Settlement Conference shall be held, either in person or in some other convenient manner, at which the Parties and the Settlement Judge shall determine, in general terms, the procedure to be adopted for the Court Settlement Process, the venue of the Court Settlement Conference, the estimated duration of the Court Settlement Conference and the material which will be read by the Settlement Judge in advance of the Court Settlement Conference.

Each Party shall cooperate with the Settlement Judge. A Party may request a private meeting with the Settlement Judge at any time during the Court Settlement Conference. The Parties shall give full assistance to enable the Court Settlement Conference to proceed and be concluded within the time stipulated by the Settlement Judge.

7. No offers or promises or agreements shall have any legal effect unless and until they are included in a written agreement signed by representatives of all Parties (the "Settlement Agreement").
8. If the Court Settlement Conference does not lead to a Settlement Agreement, the Settlement Judge may, if requested by the Parties, send the Parties such assessment setting out his views on such matters as the Parties shall request, which may include, for instance, his views on the disputes, his views on prospects of success on individual issues, the likely outcome of the case and what would be an appropriate settlement. Such assessment shall be confidential to the parties and may not be used or referred to in any subsequent proceedings.

Termination of the Settlement Process

9. The Court Settlement Process shall come to end upon the signing of a Settlement Agreement by the Parties in respect of the disputes or when the Settlement Judge so directs or upon written notification by any Party at any time to the Settlement Judge and the other Party or Parties that the Court Settlement Process is terminated.
